

A PAGE TO BANK ON

Founded over forty years ago, and with a record of rapid and successful growth, The Planters National Bank has attained its present position of prominence in financial circles only through judicious and conservative handling of funds entrusted to its care. It is with the assurance of a continuation of past policies that this bank offers its services to those seeking a strong, reliable and safe banking house.

A bank is what its directors make it—its strength depends largely upon their experience, judgment and responsibility—its growth upon the time, thought and effort they devote to it. The directors of The Planters National Bank are well known business men of this city, large holders of the bank's stock, therefore deeply interested in its stability and progress. They keep in constant touch with its affairs by constant meetings. This is a very important point to be considered in selecting a banking house.
